WritePoint Powered by Grammarly
Typical Processing Time Under 2 Minutes

1. What is WritePoint Powered by Grammarly?
   WritePoint Powered by Grammarly is a web-based editor and automated proofreader University of Phoenix students and faculty can use for instant grammar checks and correction suggestions on assignment drafts. Access to WritePoint Powered by Grammarly is available through eCampus' Center for Writing Excellence.

2. Will WritePoint Powered by Grammarly send students' proofread papers to the electronic gradebook?
   No. The web-based editor requires a user to manually upload and download text or documents. WritePoint Powered by Grammarly does not have functionality which allows it to automatically upload documents to the University's electronic gradebook. Consequently, faculty will no longer see a WritePoint version of students' papers in gradebook.

3. Does WritePoint Powered by Grammarly have an area where I can save multiple students' papers to review later?
   No. You will need to upload and download papers one at a time and then save them to your hard drive or another device if you want to review them or add comments to them later. Assignments are not able to be submitted in batches.

4. Does WritePoint Powered by Grammarly check for plagiarism?
   No. WritePoint Powered by Grammarly's function is to check grammar and spelling. To check for plagiarism or originality data, one must return to the Center for Writing Excellence and continue to use the current Plagiarism Checker.

5. How does one use WritePoint Powered by Grammarly?
   Click on the WritePoint Powered by Grammarly link in the Center for Writing Excellence. Once you arrive at the web-based editor, you will be able to copy and paste your work or upload a MS Word document. Click Start Review. Feedback will be displayed on the screen and you will be able to edit the paper as you navigate through each suggestion.

6. Is there a limited number of times one can use WritePoint Powered by Grammarly?
   No. University of Phoenix students and faculty have unlimited use of WritePoint Powered by Grammarly when accessed directly from eCampus' Center for Writing Excellence.

7. How can I retrieve the changes I made to text in WritePoint Powered by Grammarly?
   If you used the Upload button, then you can use the Download button to download the corrected text back to its source. Alternately, you can copy your text by using the copy button at the top of the editor. After that, you can paste the text into any text editor (e.g., Microsoft Word).

8. When using the web-based editor in WritePoint Powered by Grammarly, sometimes formatting is lost. How can I preserve formatting?
   If you are copy-pasting your text into the web-based editor, it makes your text plain (all the formatting is lost except for the paragraphs). To preserve the formatting of text, please use the Upload and Download buttons.
